Item 5. Other Events.

General

On June 6, 2002, Host Marriott, L.P. (the "Operating Partnership"), of which we are the sole general partner, entered into a new bank credit facility with Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas, as Administrative Agent, Bank of America, N.A., as Syndication Agent, Wells Fargo Bank, N.A., Citicorp Real Estate, Inc., and Credit Lyonnais New York Branch, as Co-Documentation Agents and certain other agents and lenders. The new bank credit facility provides an aggregate revolving loan commitment amount of up to $400 million ($300 million of which is available initially, with up to an additional $100 million becoming available to the extent that the Operating Partnership's leverage ratio falls below certain specified levels). The new bank credit facility also includes subcommitments for the issuance of letters of credit and loans to certain of the Operating Partnership's Canadian subsidiaries in Canadian Dollars, in each case in an amount of up to $100 million. The new bank credit facility replaces the prior bank facility, which was terminated in connection with the closing under the new bank credit facility. The new bank credit facility has an initial scheduled maturity in June 2005. The Operating Partnership has an option to extend the maturity for an additional year if certain conditions are met at the time of the initial scheduled maturity.

As with the prior facility, the debt under the new bank credit facility is guaranteed by certain of the Operating Partnership's existing subsidiaries and is currently secured by pledges of equity interests in many of the Operating Partnership's subsidiaries. The guarantees and pledges ratably benefit the Operating Partnership's new credit facility and the notes outstanding under the Operating Partnership's senior note indenture. Unlike the prior facility, all or a portion of the pledges are permitted to be released in the event that the Operating Partnership's leverage ratio falls below a certain level for two consecutive fiscal quarters.

The Operating Partnership has not made any drawings under the new bank credit facility.

Interest and Fees

The Operating Partnership pays interest on borrowings under the new bank credit facility at a rate that is set with reference to the Operating Partnership's leverage ratio. To the extent that amounts under the new bank credit facility remain unused, the Operating Partnership pays a quarterly commitment fee on the unused portion of the available loan commitment.

Financial and Other Covenants

The Operating Partnership's new bank credit facility establishes financial covenants for leverage, interest coverage, fixed charge coverage and unsecured interest coverage. While such financial covenants are similar to the financial covenants contained in the prior facility, the new bank credit facility contains fewer financial covenants and the covenant levels are generally less stringent than those that would have been applicable during comparable time periods under the prior facility.

The Operating Partnership's new bank credit facility does impose restrictions on many of the customary matters that were restricted in the prior facility. In general, however, the new bank credit facility is less restrictive in that it imposes fewer limitations on, among other things, the Operating Partnership's ability to: incur additional indebtedness; grant liens on assets; enter into affiliate transactions; pay dividends; and make acquisitions, investments and certain capital expenditures. In many cases, the Operating Partnership has modified covenants to reflect the requirements under the Operating Partnership's senior note indenture. Among the specific changes under the new bank credit facility are the following:

... proceeds from insurance, the incurrence of indebtedness, and the issuance of equity are no longer required to be applied to repay credit facility borrowings

- ... proceeds from the sale of assets are required to be applied to repay credit facility borrowings only under circumstances where repayment would be required under the senior note indenture, and not in most other circumstances as was the case under the third amendment to the prior facility
- ... restrictions on capital expenditures and investments in subsidiaries that are not guarantors are reduced to the extent that the Operating Partnership's leverage ratio falls below a certain level
- ... acquisitions of new hotel properties are generally unrestricted
- ... restrictions on the payment of dividends and the repurchase of stock are no longer tied to the Operating Partnership's leverage ratio being below a specified level, and are more consistent with the senior note indenture

In addition, the new bank credit facility reflects restrictions on incurrence of debt and the payment of dividends that are generally consistent with the senior note indenture. These provisions, under certain circumstances, limit debt incurrence to that incurred under a credit facility or in connection with a refinancing, and limit dividend payments to those necessary to maintain our tax status as a REIT. As a result of the effect on our business of the September 11 terrorist attacks and the recession, we expect that the Operating Partnership may be subject to these limitations beginning in the third quarter. Based on our estimates of taxable income for 2002, we expect the Operating Partnership to continue to pay the normal quarterly distributions on its preferred units as well as re-institute a modest dividend on its common units later this year.

HOST MARRIOTT ANNOUNCES NEW CREDIT FACILITY

BETHESDA, MD; June 14, 2002 -- Host Marriott Corporation (NYSE:HMT), today announced that it successfully completed the syndication of a new bank credit facility replacing its prior credit line. The new credit facility provides the Company with an aggregate revolving loan commitment amount of up to $400 million.

The new facility is led by Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas and Bank of America, N.A. The loan has an initial maturity of June 2005, with an option to extend for an additional year if certain conditions are met. The facility will bear interest at a floating rate. There are currently no amounts outstanding under the new facility.

Robert E. Parsons, Jr., executive vice president and chief financial officer, commented, "We are extremely pleased with this transaction. The new credit facility has an initial maturity which is two years beyond the maturity of the credit facility it replaced. While pricing on the new credit facility is comparable to the facility it replaced, we have achieved much greater flexibility."

Mr. Parsons added, "Coupled with the significant cash balances that we are currently holding, this new facility will enable us to take advantage of expected future opportunities. Our credit facility, which was significantly oversubscribed and included a syndicate of fourteen lending institutions, confirms Host Marriott's ongoing ability to access the capital markets."

Host Marriott is a Fortune 500 lodging real estate company that currently owns or holds controlling interests in 122 upscale and luxury hotel properties primarily operated under premium brands such as Marriott, Ritz-Carlton, Hyatt, Four Seasons, Swissotel and Hilton.
